ENVIRONMENTS

INHABITANTS

Genesis 1

³ Then God said, “Let there be light,” and there was light. ⁴ And God saw that the light was good. Then he separated the light from the darkness. ⁵ God called the light “day” and the darkness “night.” And evening passed and morning came, marking the first day.

Genesis 2

¹⁶ God made two great lights—the larger one to govern the day, and the smaller one to govern the night. He also made the stars.

Genesis 1

³ Then God said, “Let there be light,” and there was light. ⁴ And God saw that the light was good. Then he separated the light from the darkness. ⁵ God called the light “day” and the darkness “night.” And evening passed and morning came, marking the first day.

Day one: the ordering of TIME

Psalm 31

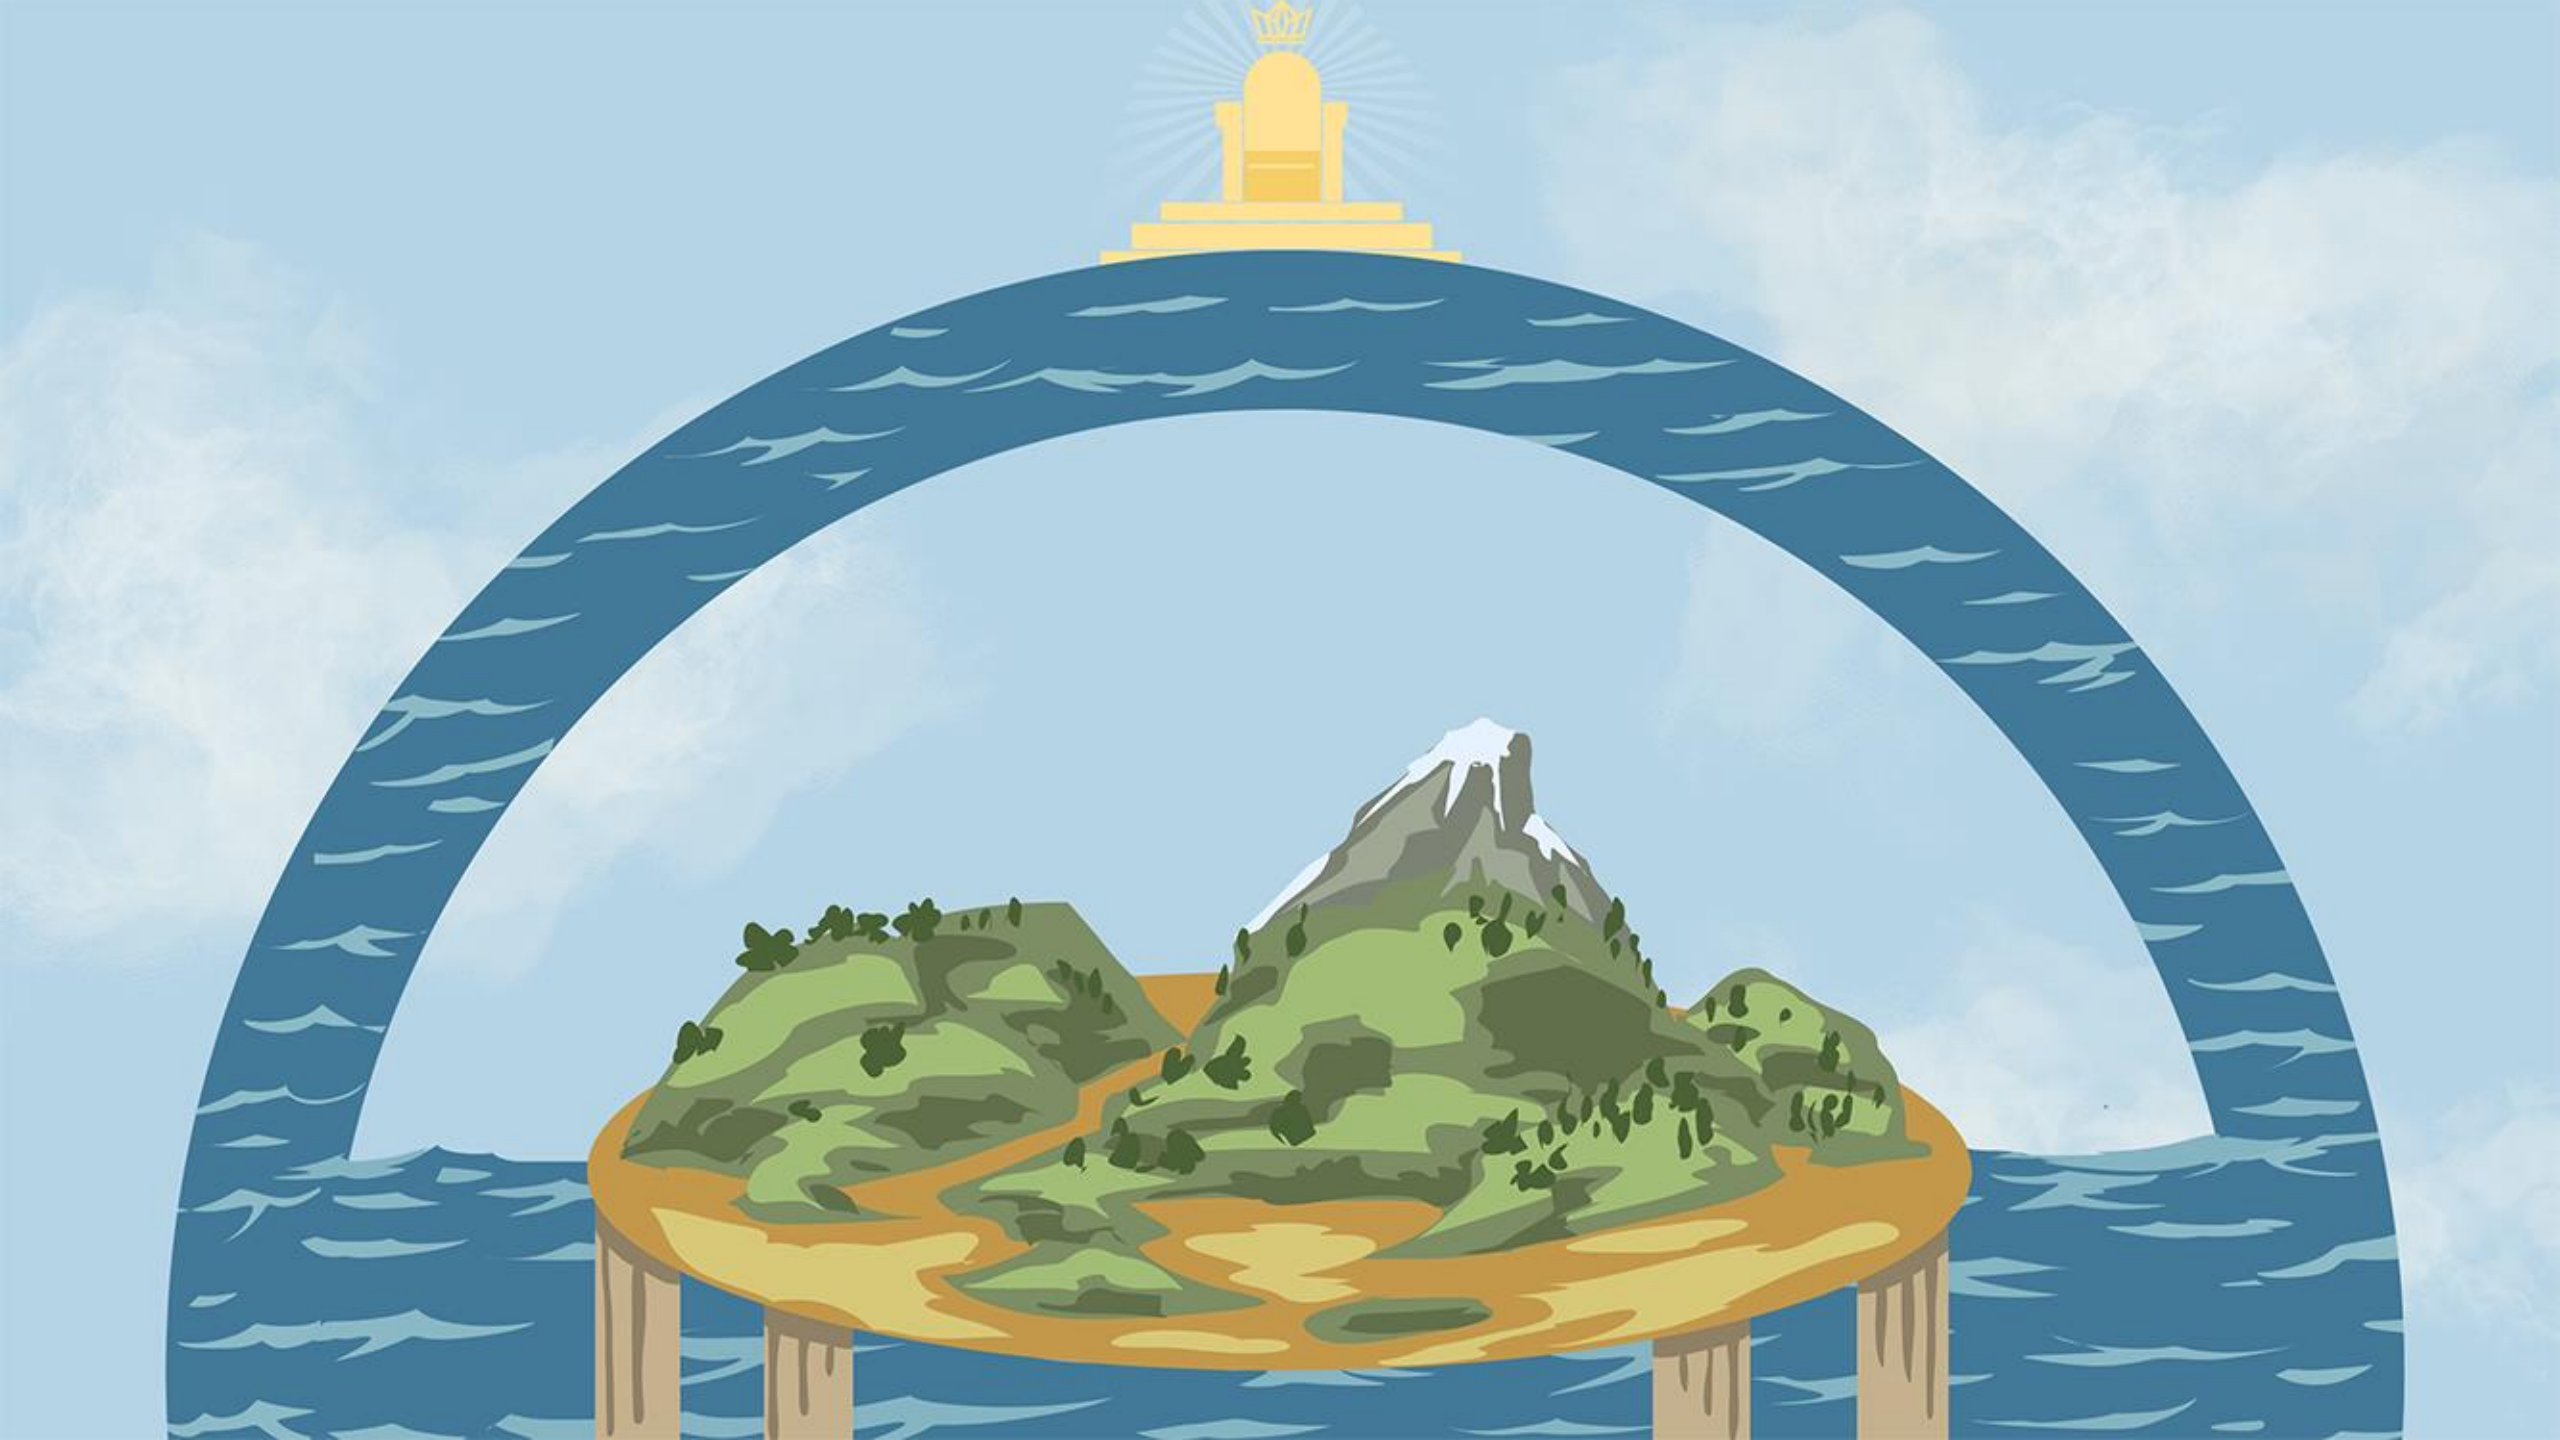

¹⁵ My times are in your hands; deliver me from the hands of my enemies, from those who pursue me.

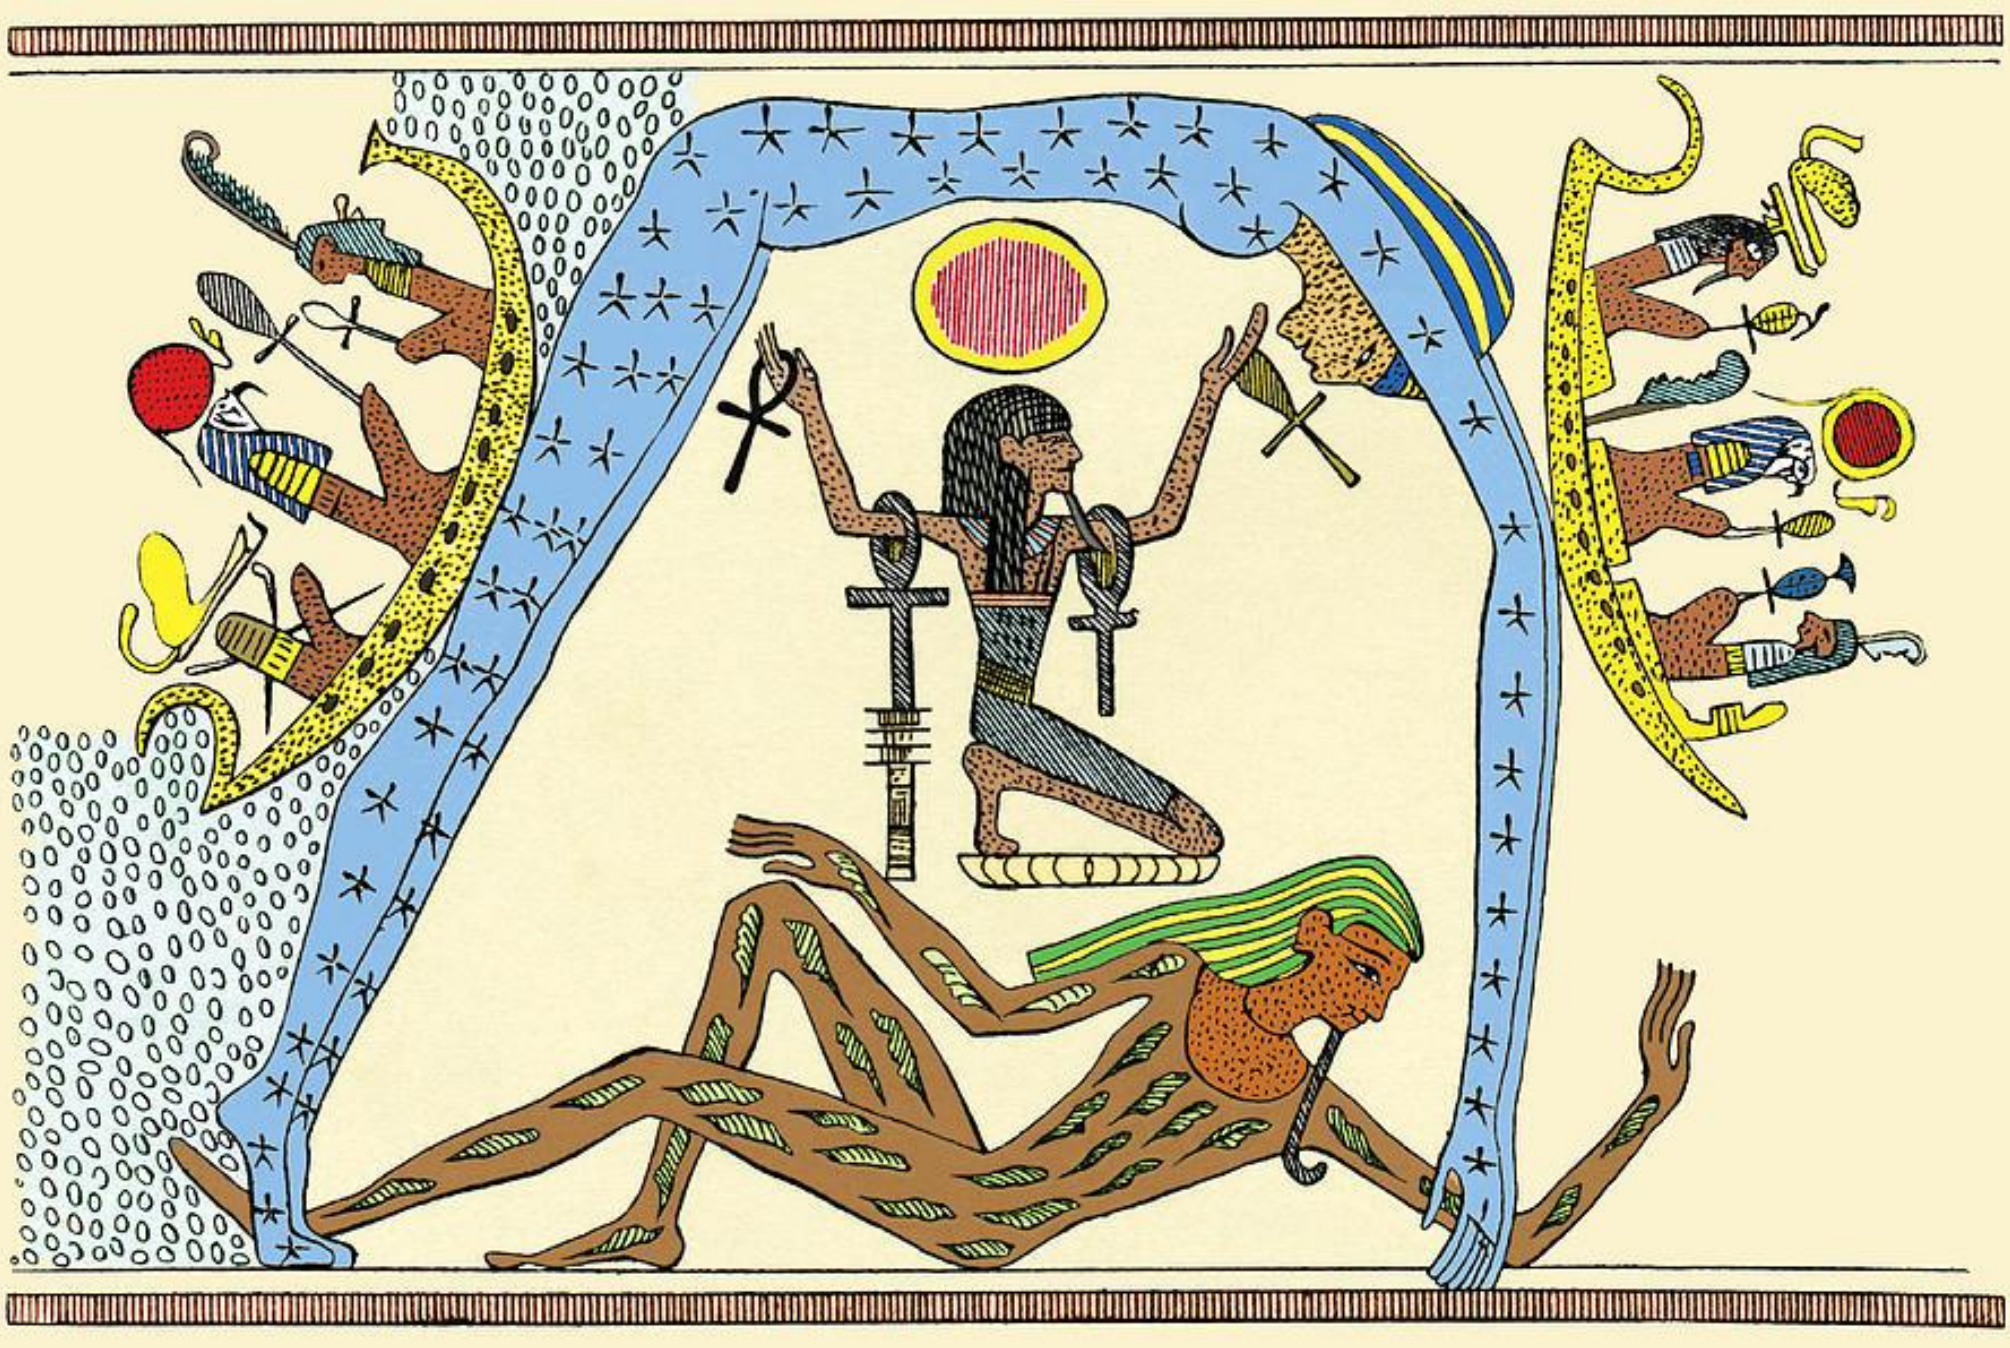

Day one: the ordering of TIME

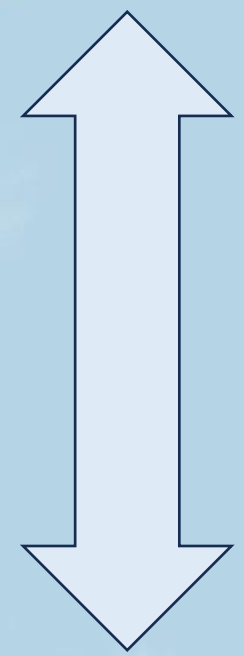

Genesis 1

⁶ Then God said, “Let there be a space between the waters, to separate the waters of the heavens from the waters of the earth.” ⁷ And that is what happened. God made this space to separate the waters of the earth from the waters of the heavens. ⁸ God called the space “sky.” And evening passed and morning came, marking the second day.

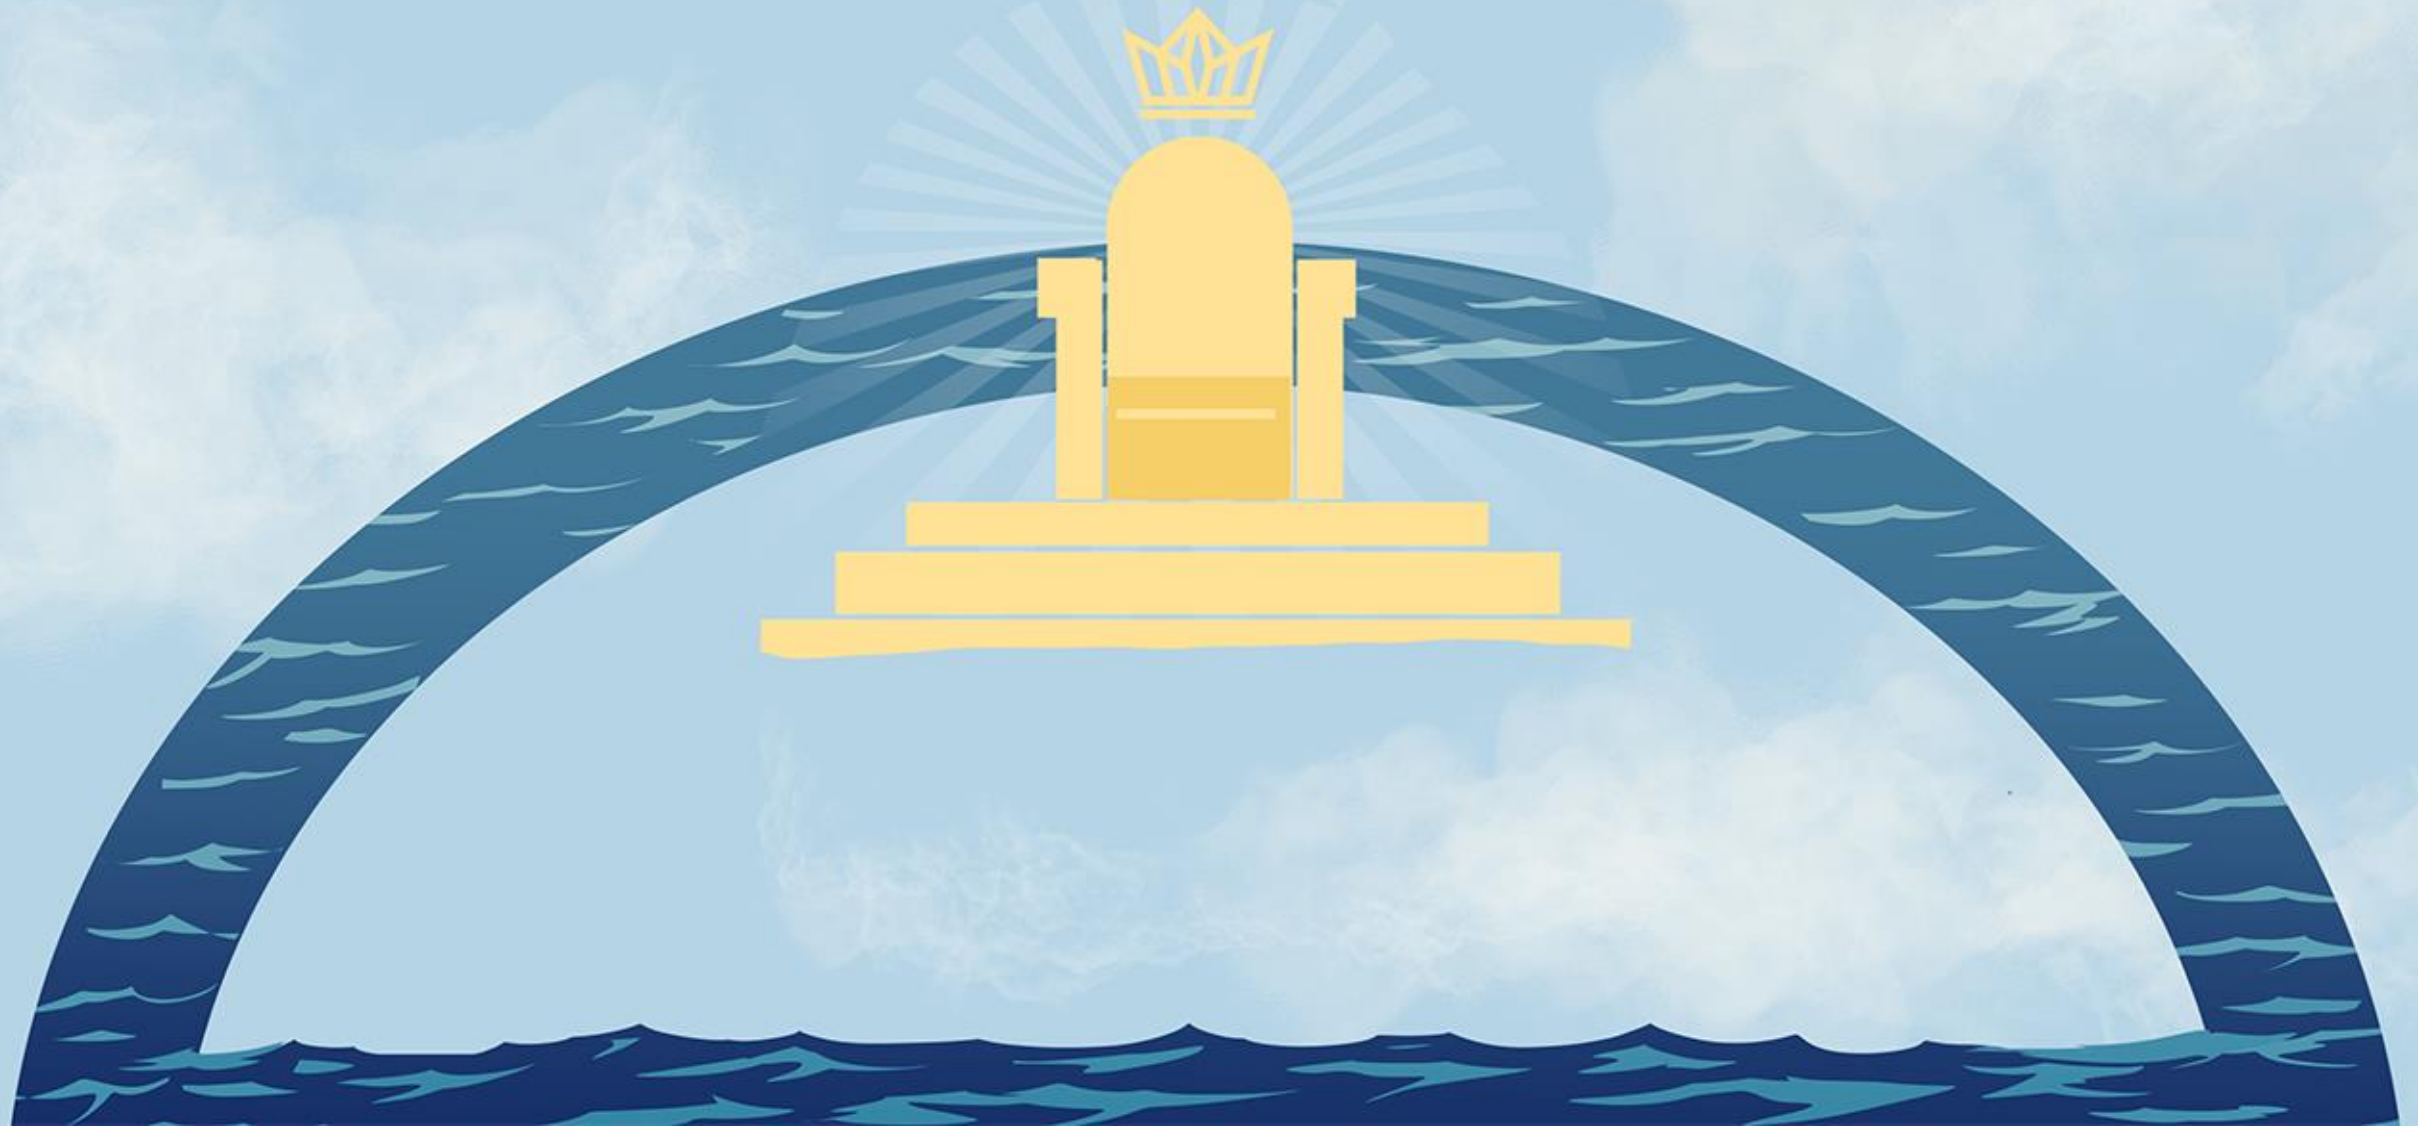

EXPANSE
Heb: raqia'

Day two: creating distinction between God's order and chaos

1 Corinthians 14

³³ For God is not a God of disorder but of peace—as in all the congregations of the Lord’s people.

Genesis 1

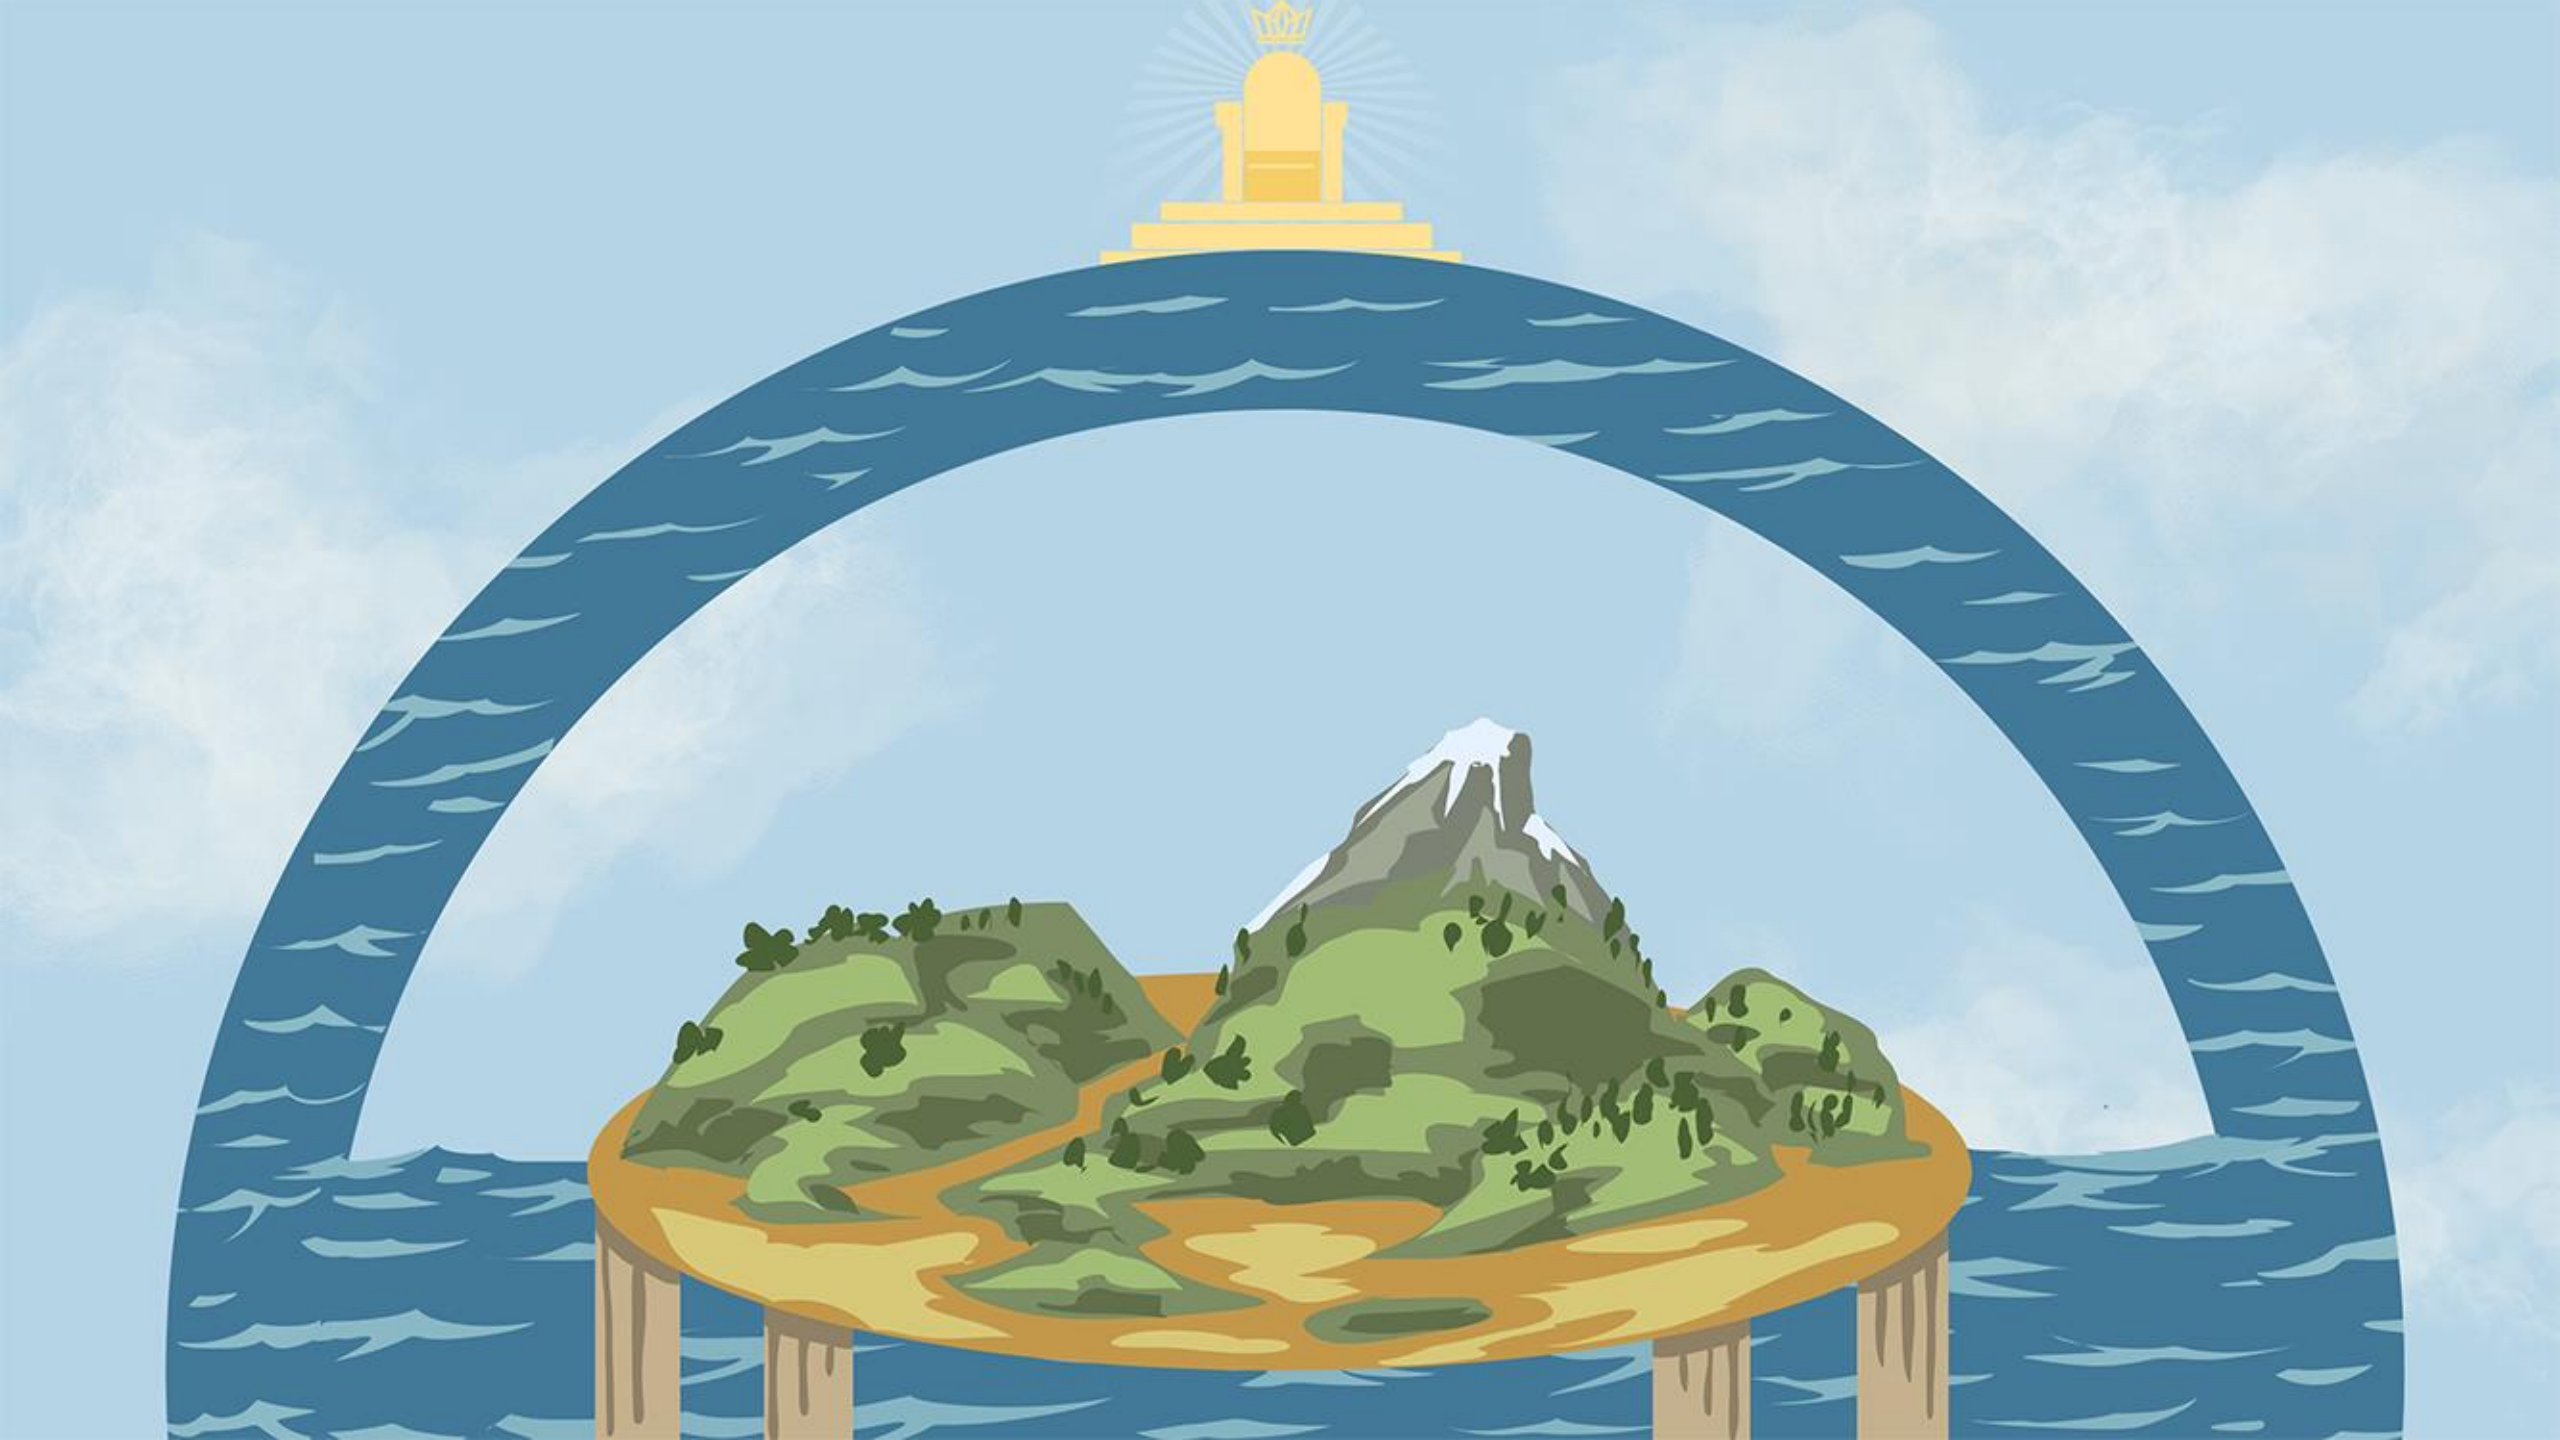

⁹ Then God said, “Let the waters beneath the sky flow together into one place, so dry ground may appear.” And that is what happened. ¹⁰ God called the dry ground “land” and the waters “seas.” And God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1

¹¹ Then God said, “Let the land sprout with vegetation—every sort of seed-bearing plant, and trees that grow seed-bearing fruit. These seeds will then produce the kinds of plants and trees from which they came.” And that is what happened.

Genesis 1

¹² The land produced vegetation—all sorts of seed-bearing plants, and trees with seed-bearing fruit. Their seeds produced plants and trees of the same kind. And God saw that it was good. ¹³ And evening passed and morning came, marking the third day.

Day three: establishing a dedicated environment for life
